Video tutorial - <https://youtu.be/DRpVPTQ20F8>

2 x 5 oz/141 grams Red Heart Fashion soft number 3/DK/8ply yarn in the colour Kelly Green

8mm crochet hook

2 stitch markers, yarn needle, scissors and tape measure

Measure from the base of your neck to the end of your shoulder

Even amount of foundation stitches or chains

1. Leave a 6 inch tail, foundation dc or make a chain that is 1 inch bigger than head measurement that you are making it for. Being careful not to twist, join with a slip stitch

Spiral version - one colour - For 2 or more colours see directions below for joining rounds

2. Sc in the next stitch, hdc in the next stitch, dc in the next - dc around

We are now working in a spiral and will not join at the ends of the rounds

Continue working in dc until you have the cowl (neck) section as long as you want it - I did 14 inches

Leave a stitch marker to mark the start of the poncho and use your other stitch marker to mark the beginning of your rounds

Increasing

- 1 dc in the next stich, inc in the next, 1 dc in the next stitch, inc into the next, repeat around
- 1 dc into each stitch
- 1 dc into each stitch
- Repeat the last 3 rounds until from the stitch marker that marks the end of the cowl equals your shoulder measurement - measure from the base of your neck to the end of your shoulder
- Repeat rounds 3-5 one more time
- Dc in each stitch for the length that you want your poncho. When you reach the length desired, work a hdc into the next stitch and a sc in to the next, slip stitch into the next stitch and finish off

Joining rounds - more than 1 colour

Once you have completed round 1, ch 3, dc into each stitch around. Join to the first stitch with a slip stitch

Repeat last round until the length of your cowl (neck section) is long enough. I did 14 inches

You will be working the increase rounds the same as the spiral version except you will be joining at the end of your rounds. You will do this by joining to the first stitch with a slip stitch. Each time you start a new round

Thank you for choosing my pattern, happy crochet, Clare xx
