SC - Single Crochet

Ch - Chain

BL - Back Loop

FO - Fasten Off

Note: Size of cozy will depend on size of your teapot.

Make two panels identical in size. You can add as many colors as you like for the striped effect or do two colors or just one color. It's up to you as you are the artist

Make the following measurements lengthwise from handle to spout and from top of the lid of the teapot to bottom. In the tutorial the teapot's length is 8" and top to bottom is 6".

Make a slip knot leaving a tail of 12 inches, make a chain the same measurement as your height of your teapot

Row 1 - Sc into the 2nd ch from the hook and in each ch across to the end. Ch 1 and turn.

Row 2 – sc into the BL of each stitch across, ch 1, turn, change color when row 2 is complete

Repeat row 2 changing colour every 2 rows

Continue to work the sc bl striped effect until (when stretched slightly) your piece sits against the handle and lays at the beginning of the spout. . Rib stitch is very forgiving and is therefore very stretchy.

Make another panel the same

Handle Side

To join, line up the teapot handle side and whip stitch a few stitches with the 12 inch end you left when you started your project, and then try it on the teapot to see where the bottom reaches the handle. Finish off and sew in ends

Put the two top sides together to gauge where to sew from end edges to top of spout. Should be lying nice and snug in the groove of top of spout. Start by making a knot and whip stitching from edges to where you want to finish. Finish off and sew in ends

Draw String Cord

Use two different colors of the same yarn you used to make the cozy. Ch so it is long enough so it fits around the top of your cozy and add another 6 to 8 inches so you have enough to tie a bow

You can either sew your FO ends in or cut level and leave long ends. Take your cozy off the teapot. Remembering which edge is the top, start to weave the cord through starting a little bit below the top edge. Use a larger crochet hook to pull the cord through.

If needed a optional tie can be added to the handle (see image at the beginning of pattern. This will help keep larger tea cozy's in place

Boil the kettle and enjoy a nice cup of Tea, you deserve it
Cheers !

Thank you for choosing my pattern

Happy crochet
